EIGHT HELD AS
KIDNAPERS OF K.
C. YOUNG WOMANA Speedy Prosecution Of Suspects Is Planned
By Authorities

BULLETIN
Kansas City, June 3—(AP)—Walter H. McGee, 37, former Oregon convict, confessed leader, and seven other persons were indicted by a federal grand jury here today in connection with the kidnaping last Saturday of Miss Mary McElroy, 25, daughter of City Manager H. F. McElroy.

The indictments contained three counts. One charged the transportation of Miss McElroy from Missouri to Kansas in violation of a federal interstate kidnapping statute enacted after the kidnaping of the infant son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh. The other counts charged the accused persons with sending two extortion letters in the United States mail.

The indictments were returned within two hours after the grand jury had convened to consider the McGee kidnaping and came while McGee was dictating a confession to his part of the crime to Chief of Detectives Thomas J. Higgins at Police headquarters. Higgins said McGee's confession implicated Clarence Stevens, (Charles Click, and McGee's brother George.

Click is in police custody and George McGee and Stevens are being sought.

Those named in the indictments: McGee, his brother George, Click, Stevens, Wendell Johnson, His wife, Hazel, L. E. Gilbert, and his wife, Lenore.

The Gilberts, the Johnsons and McGee were arrested yesterday in Amarillo, Texas.

Kansas City, June 3—(AP)—Determined to make Kansas City feared by kidnapers, authorities prepared today for speedy prosecution of Walter H. McGee, 37, ex-convict, arrested with seven other persons in connection with the abduction of Miss Mary McElroy.

Police were somewhat uncertain as to the status of the seven but expressed conviction McGee was the leader of the gang which seized the 25-year-old daughter of the city manager a week ago today and released her $30,000 ransom by her father, H. F. McElroy.

Federal charges of transferring Miss McElroy from her Missouri home to Kansas, where she was held in a bungalow near Shawnee, and of sending threatening letters through the mails were filed against McGee and four others arrested yesterday in Amarillo, Tex. Three others were held here.

Returned By Plane
The five apprehended in the west Texas city arrived here by airplane at 5:30 A. M. CST. Officers having the five in custody took them to police headquarters. The group included McGee and four who gave the names of Wendell Johnson, Mrs. Hazel Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Gilbert.

In custody here for investigation were Miss Lucille Cates, said by officers to be McGee's former wife; C. L. Click and Abe Starr, the latter a Leavenworth, Kas. junk dealer, who police said they believed was not implicated in the kidnaping. He was held for questioning after officers interpreted a telegram to him from an Amarillo motor car company with the information McGee was attempting to trade a car purchased from Starr.

A federal grand jury was scheduled to reconvene today to inquire into the case.

McGee Identified
"That's the man," said Miss McElroy and her father after viewing pictures of McGee.

Officers reported learning that McGee was an acquaintance of Martin Deputy, alias Depew, now serving a life sentence as the leader of the kidnapers who abducted Mrs. Neil Donnelly, wealthy garment manufacturer, here in December, 1931, but released her without obtaining the $75,000 ransom demanded.

At Amarillo police said McGee admitted to them the $9,000 in currency found in his possession was "kidnap money" but said it had been given him by a man near Victory Junction, Kas., to change (Continued on Page 2)

LONE AVIATOR
STARTS FLIGHT
AROUND WORLDJames Mattern Starts A Long Solo Flight
This Morning

BULLETIN
Lewisport, N. F., June 3—(AP)—James J. Mattern passed over Lewisport on Notre Dame Bay at 10:30 A. M. (CST) in his first hop of a round the world flight. A Lewisport is approximately 150 miles northwest of Haborgrave, the take-off point of many previous attempts to fly the Atlantic.

BULLETIN
St. John's, Newfoundland, June 3—(AP)—James J. Mattern's round-the-world monoplane was heard over Musgrave Harbor, Bonaville North, Newfoundland, shortly after he had been reported to day at Lewisport, Newfoundland.

Musgrave Harbor is on the northern coast, and it was assumed that the aviator was bearing seaward without a stop.

New York, June 3—(AP)—An aerial jock-of-all-work with six cranes in his pocket and a grin on his lips hopped off from Floyd Bennett Field today in a single-handed try at the globe-girdling record.

James Joseph Mattern of San Angelo, Texas, who has done all kinds of flying chores, from totting feed meats to Mexico to hopping the Atlantic, roared down the mile-long runway in his "Century of Progress" and got away at 4:20 A. M. Eastern Standard time.

The record, eight days, seven hours and 51 minutes, was set two years ago by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty.

As to Mattern's first stop on the grind, there were several versions and much confusion. First he was represented as hoping to get to Moscow without a stop. Later it (Continued on Page Two)

Robot Piloted Hawk's Plane
On Straight Course Across
United States Yesterday

New York, June 3—(AP)—Los Angeles and New York are only 13 hours, 26 minutes and 15 seconds apart, to Frank Hawks.

When he set down his "flying laboratory" at Floyd Bennett field at 10:18 o'clock Eastern Standard time, last night, it ended a non-stop solo flight from Los Angeles which broke Hawks' own record by four hours and ten minutes. He established the record four years ago.

While Hawk's time yesterday is the best for a non-stop cross-continent flight, it is not the swiftest plane time between the two coasts. Captain James Haislip spanned the continent last year in 10 hours and 19 minutes, but his flight was not non-stop.

Although Hawks flew alone, he said he was really a "passenger," the plane being handled most of the way by a robot pilot. Only when darkness came near Butler, Pa., did Hawks take over the controls. His gasoline supply was almost exhausted as he landed.

At one time during the afternoon Hawks said, he had no idea over what part of the country he was flying, but two hours later he sighted Kansas City and knew that the robot was piloting a straight route.

A great part of the 2,540 mile journey was flown at a height of 15,000 feet.

Roosevelt May Ask Repeal Ratification

PRESIDENT MAY MAKE APPEAL TO
NATION'S VOTERSIllinois Voters To Decide
Issue In Monday's Poll

How To Vote

Voters at Monday's election, for which the polls will be open from 6 A. M. until 5 P. M., will receive two ballots—one containing the names of candidates for Justice of the Supreme Court and Judges of the Circuit court, and the other names of candidates for delegates to the state convention July 10 to act on the proposal to repeal the eighteenth amendment to the federal constitution.

The judicial candidates are listed under party circles and a cross in either circle counts a vote for each candidate in that party.

The repeal delegates are under two circles—one headed "For Ratification" which is for repeal of the dry amendment; the other "Against Ratification" which is for retention of present anti-liquor section.

Voters may ignore the circles, if they so desire and vote for individual delegates, but no split delegation will be sent to the convention, for the delegates will be chosen on a state-wide basis, the total vote in the state for or against repeal to determine the make-up of the convention.

Washington, June 3—(AP)—President Roosevelt is expected by Democratic leaders to make a direct appeal to the states to ratify the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Members of Congress from dry and doubtful states have urged the Chief Executive to make a personal call for action, and they have gained the impression that he will do so shortly.

Judges of Proven Worth Deserve Voters' Endorsement

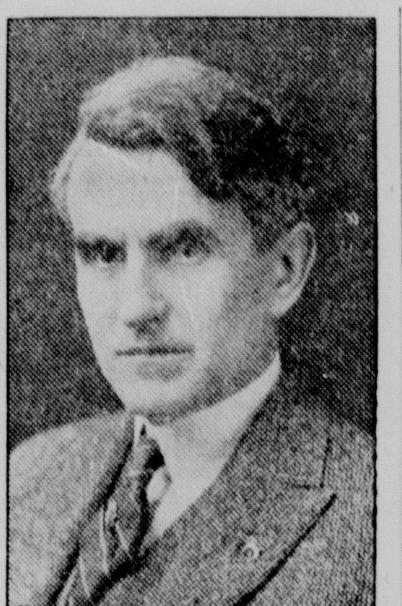

HON. OSCAR E. HEARD

Present Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the state of Illinois who has written more opinions than any other justice of that tribunal the past year, and whose ability and integrity are known by attorneys throughout the state.

HON. HARRY EDWARDS

Lee county's present Judge of the Fifteenth judicial Circuit, comprising the counties of Jo Daviess, Carroll, Stephenson, Ogle and Lee, and assigned to the Appellate court of the Third Illinois district in recognition of his worth.

HON. W. J. EMERSON

Former State's Attorney of Ogle county and now one of the three able and fearless judges of the Fifteenth Circuit. Judge Emerson's career on the bench has demonstrated him to be a jurist of discernment and unimpeachable character.

HON. HARRY L. HEER

Jo Daviess county's contribution to the trio of Circuit judges of this district—among the strongest and most able in the state Judge Heer's decisions in important cases have withstood appeals unusually well.

EDITORIAL—MONDAY'S ELECTION

Judicial elections have not excited much interest in this district in times gone by because in this preponderantly Republican section the Democrats have rarely put up an opposition ticket. But next Monday, June 5th, there is a possibility that our entire judicial ticket, composed of highly competent judges who have proven their sterling worth by years of faithful and capable service on the bench, might be replaced by the Democratic candidates, none of whom have had any experience on the bench and whose ability to give competent service as judges is entirely problematical.

Do we want to discard such fine and able judges as Harry Edwards of Dixon, William J. Emerson of Oregon and Harry L. Heer of Galena and place our courts and the administration in the untied hands of the Democratic aspirants? We think not. The Telegraph sincerely believes that such action would be a grave mistake and we endorse and strongly urge the election of Justice Oscar E. Heard to the Supreme Court and Judges Edwards, Emerson and Heer to the circuit court.

Our courts are our last resource—the bulwark of defense of the constitution and personal freedom. The voters have turned over to the Democratic party in this state and nation the executive and legislative branches of our government. We hope they may carry out their last line of defense of public freedom by retaining in office and in authority the judicial branch of our government, the judges whose records prove they will maintain justice and protect individual rights by upholding the state and nation the executive and legislative branches of our government. We hope they may carry out their laws of the land and the constitution itself.

The Democratic candidate for the supreme court (all over the state the Democratic machine is making a concerted attack on supreme court seats and it should not take you long to guess why) advertises that "Roosevelt's party endorses" him. Does he expect to ride into the supreme court on the tail of the present Roosevelt popularity? We would like to make a little bet that Roosevelt never heard of him. The only party that in endorsing him is the Chicago-controlled Democratic state machine. There is a great deal of difference between the public attitude toward the administration at Washington and the administration at Springfield. The Democratic candidate's advertisement says:

"The New Deal and new laws deserve new judges to interpret and enforce them.—VOTE MONDAY." The only sensible words in that line are "VOTE MONDAY." Just how the Democratic candidate would ever have a chance to pass on any of the new laws of the "New Deal" at Washington is not clear, since he seeks a seat on the supreme court of Illinois, not the United States, but does it not seem more sensible to have our old, experienced judges passing on these "new laws" than men with no judicial experience what ever—men of whose ability and qualifications we know nothing. The Democratic candidate must be a good lawyer because he is employed largely by big utility companies and big insurance companies, but does that recommend him for a position on the supreme court of Illinois?

Two Cullom, Ill.
Banks Are Robbed

Cullom, Ill., June 3—(AP)—Seven gunmen robbed two banks in Cullom simultaneously today, shot and wounded two bystanders, and sped away with more than $5,000 in loot, after terrorizing the town with pistol and shotgun fire.

From one of the banks the robbers kidnaped two employees, marched them across a street guarded by vigilantes, and escaped unhurt. The bank employees were released a few miles from town.

One of the wounded, Doris Coash, 50, was in a serious condition. One bullet grazed his head and another was imbedded in his neck. The other victim was Frank M. Kopp. Both men were wounded as they stood in the doorways of their stores. At least one of the robbers was believed to have been wounded. The robbers travelled in two automobiles one of which was left at the edge of town under guard. The others rode into the center of town in the other car.

Legion Prepared
For Great Picnic

A large delegate of members of Dixon Post No. 12 were busy today at the Nixon cottage grounds along Rock river west of the city, preparing them for reception of the big crowd which is expected to attend tomorrow's annual public picnic of the Post and marking the road to the grounds, which are south of the River road in Palmyra township. Signs have been posted along the road directing picnickers to the site, where dinner and refreshments will be served and a program of sports, including a baseball game will be carried out.

The printers walked off the job Thursday noon, causing the Daily Illini to suspend its yesterday's edition.

Can This Be True:
Congress Revolts?

Washington, June 3—(AP)—Speaker Rainey told newspapermen today the "House is in as much revolt as the Senate" against President Roosevelt's economy program as it affects veterans.

The Speaker predicted that "unless President Roosevelt signifies that he won't stand for it" the $170,000,000 increase in veterans' outlay put into the independent offices bill by the senate would be "accepted by the House."

Rockford Brewery

APPLICATION IS
FILED TO SECURE
SHARE OF WORKSOther Projects Which Could Be Included
Are Discussed

A public works program totalling several thousand dollars is being outlined by the Dixon city council for submission to the government authorities at Washington for their approval, as Dixon's share of the Roosevelt public works-industrial taxation project which was approved by the lower house of Congress Friday.

A meeting of members of the city council, city engineer, city attorney and president of the park board was held in the mayor's office at the city hall last evening at which plans were discussed for a program of improvements which will benefit Dixon under the Federal plan, and City Engineer T. W. Clayton today was preparing his estimates which are to be submitted to the Federal authorities at Washington within the next few days.

Mayor Dixon called the meeting at his office last evening following his return from Springfield where he was in conference with Robert Kingery, Director of the state Department of Public Works and Buildings. While in Springfield, Mayor Dixon filed the city's request for construction of a new bridge across Rock River on Galena avenue to be paid for entirely out of the Federal funds. This action was taken in connection with a section of the new law which provides for 100 per cent payment by the government for improvements on the Federal aid road system. The Lincoln Highway, U. S. route 30 through Dixon comes under this classification.

Seek Similar Bridges
In announcing the preliminary program this morning, the mayor intimated that several projects were under consideration, the foremost being the building of a new bridge across Rock river. It became known that a survey of the present bridge structure was conducted by the State Highway Department during the past winter and the completion of plans for the project will be in readiness within a short time. The plans for the new structure are said to duplicate those of the Peoria avenue bridge, a street wide structure accommodating four lanes of traffic and of reinforced concrete construction. The cost of the Peoria avenue bridge was approximately $200,000.

The present Galena avenue bridge was constructed in 1882 and has been repaired many times. It is 51 years old and at the present time is considered to be in a bad condition, which would necessitate the expenditure of a large sum of money by the city to place it in proper state of repair.

May Pay To Lowell
A second project which has been submitted to Director Kingery by the mayor is the paving of the Lowell Park road from state highway 26, one mile north of the city to the park entrance. This improvement would come under the secondary road section of the Federal aid and would be paid for out of the Federal appropriation with no cost to the city or county.

With a view of creating no unreasonable burden upon the taxpayers of this community, a number of other projects were discussed at the meeting last evening, several of which will not be announced until further investigation is conducted. A program of projects to be sought was discussed and outlined by the officials, however, which program is to be rushed to completion as rapidly as possible that the requests may be filed with the Federal department.

Other Possibilities
Other projects which it is said could be incorporated in the program of Federal aid in Dixon were suggested today as follows: Widening and repaving of South Galena avenue from River to Third streets and North Galena avenue from the (Continued on Page 2)

Schmeling And Baer Reported To Be Im- proved Boxers

Lake Swannanna, N. J., June 3 (AP)—Take it from Lou Barba, New York heavyweight, Max Schmeling is a vastly improved fighter.

"He's exceptionally smart," says Barba, who has been the German's sparring partner at five training camps. "You seldom get a clean shot at his jaw. He's a quick study. If you make one little mistake he'll bring over that right and you finish up on the canvas. Baer will have a tough time hitting him on the jaw next Thursday night."

Schmeling, idle yesterday, was to resume boxing drill tomorrow.

The big Californian, training seriously for perhaps the first time to the finest condition of his career as a professional. At the close of brief workout yesterday, Baer scaled 210 pounds, only a couple of pounds more than he expects to weigh next night of the fight. He hasn't suffered a single cut or injury and extreme caution is being exercised to see that none de-

OF DEEPEST WORTH

THESE are the things I prize
And hold of deepest worth.
Light of the sapphire skies
Peace of the silent hills,
Shelter of forest, comfort of the grass,
Shadows of clouds that swiftly pass
And after showers
The smell of flowers,
And of the good brown earth,
And best of all, along the way
Friendship and mirth.

Hands Beautiful? They Surely Can Be

Give your hands something besides new gloves this summer. Are your hands beautiful? They can be. That is, if you'll take a little time each day to give them the attention they deserve.

If you have hands with dry skin you cannot hope for real beauty until this fault has been corrected. There are many excellent hand creams and lotions on the market today and they correct this dry condition. You should have one jar of oily cream to use at night. When you are ready to bed give your hands a vigorous massage with the cream, draw on soft, cotton gloves and allow the cream to permeate the pores of your skin all night long.

But the right cream is not enough. Get yourself a bottle of lotion which is greaseless but helps your hands to retain their natural oils. This lotion should be used after you have thoroughly dried your hands each time you wash them.

By all means don't leave your hands to perspire. Nothing is worse than to shake hands with a person who offers you a wet, cold palm. A solution of alum which can be purchased at a drug store may cure the condition. The deodorants you use under your arms are also recommended for palms which perspire.

For Those Festive
Bridal Parties—

Chicken Salad, Colony

A Real Triumph
of Culinary Art

By NEA Service

Entertaining for the June bride can be the most festive party over which you ever presided. It's all in the decorations and eats!

With June offering blooms gratis in every garden, your home can be a bower of loveliness with little effort.

Whether it is a shower you give for just the bride, or a bridge party for the bride and groom or a reception for the young couple, chicken salad Colony is a handsome looking piece de resistance.

This is the way you make it and serve it:

Boil two chickens whole, until tender. Then let them cool. Remove the meat from the carcass, without cutting a bone. Dice and add as much diced celery as you have chicken; season with salt, pepper, English mustard, some Worcestershire sauce, the juice of one lemon and mix with just enough mayonnaise to hold together.

Now comes the tricky part of this de luxe salad! When your salad is ready, spread it over the carcasses of the two birds, arranging smoothly so that the contour of the chickens is easily distinguishable.

When the birds are all fixed up, and padded out like fat chickens, cover the chickens with mayonnaise and decorate with a scroll pattern in pink or white or any color you wish.

Then place a low pedestal on an oval shaped silver platter long enough to accommodate the two chickens arranged lengthwise. Pose the chickens on this pedestal.

Now cover both chickens with meat jelly or ordinary gelatin to give them a smooth, glazed effect. Garnish the dish with parsley and lemons cut in star shapes. Between the two chickens post little bride and groom dolls.

This is the most decorative salad you can imagine and if your guests haven't seen it before, will gain an enviable reputation for you as a past master at the culinary art. It is easy to serve because all you have to do is scoop the salad off the bones.

Tasty Summer Desserts Can Be Made From Fresh Cherries and Rhubarb

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

Fresh fruit served in the simplest possible manner is the most desirable and most logical dessert for warm weather meals. The perfection of luscious strawberries is tempting when they are served in a border around a cone of snowy powdered sugar, and the fragrance of golden ripe pineapple cut in segments and served in the same fashion is most inviting.

But perfect fruit is not always in the market. What shall we do, then, with the less desirable fruits in order to serve attractive and seasonal desserts? These desserts make use of just such fruits in simple concoctions that are delicious and economical.

Sugared Cherries
Sugared cherries are a delicious dessert that the country housewife has used for years when there were extra "hands" and no pie in the pantry. Use the sour pie cherries for the most delectable results. Of course, the large sweeter variety can be used if preferred. Wash and pit the fruit. Sprinkle heavily with granulated sugar and let stand an hour or longer in the refrigerator to chill. Serve with plain sugar cookies or unsalted crackers and cream cheese and black coffee.

M. E. Bible Class Elected Officers At Mrs. F. Brauer's

Mrs. Fred Brauer entertained the Woman's Bible Class, of the Methodist Church school, Thursday, May 31st, at her pleasant farm home. The weather was ideal and nearly forty members were in attendance.

The devotional period was led by Miss Estella Anderson, reading John 12:1-8, on "Mary's Memorial Gift," stressing the thought that Mary gave her very best to her Master.

The vice president, Mrs. Minnie Sheffield, presided. The secretary reported the average attendance at class for the past month was thirty-one.

New officers were elected, as follows:

President, Mrs. W. H. Gebhardt; Vice Pres., Mrs. E. G. Brenner; Sec'y., Mrs. S. S. Schuler; Asst. Sec'y., Mrs. O. Cline; Treasurer, Mrs. Ellen Peterson.

The program was in charge of Mrs. H. Hardy.

Two readings were given by Mrs. Charles Bush, "Seeing Things At Night" and "Grandma's Prayer."

An original story, written and read by Mrs. Hardy, containing the names of 28 members of the class caused much merriment.

Mrs. L. N. Deutsch conducted a very instructive parliamentary drill, which will be continued at a future meeting. Many items on prohibition were given during roll call and every member of Mrs. Brauer's Bible Class is expected to vote next Monday, against the repeal of the 18th Amendment.

During the social hour Mrs. Harry Quick's Committee served dainty refreshments.

The next meeting will be a picnic supper with Mrs. W. W. Shipert, Route 6, on June 22.

Interesting Meeting St. Paul's Aid Soc.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's church met in the church parlors, Thursday afternoon, the meeting opened by singing several songs. Prayers were offered by several ladies. The president read two poems which were very beautiful. Mrs. Coakley read a letter from Rev. Stahl of the Nachusa Home thanking the ladies for their gift of $25. Mrs. Christmann also gave a short talk on the Nachusa home. The Secretary and Treasurer gave very good reports. Roll call was then in order and thirty-two members responded. The ladies are planning for a strawberry festival and a food sale, also, in the near future. The penny march was given with the closing song.

The hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Prince Wilhelm of Prussia Weds Dorothea von Salviati
Bonn, Germany, June 3.—(AP)—Hallowed Hohenzollern tradition, a rigid "house law" since the 15th century, was broken today by the marriage of former Prince Wilhelm of Prussia to Dorothea von Salviati, a 25-year-old girl of "unequal" birth.

The prince, who will be 27 July 4, once was in line for the German throne, but by the marriage he may forfeit all his chances if the dynasty should return to power.

The civil ceremony was performed in the city hall this morning in the presence of two witnesses, the bride's brother, Col. von Salviati, and one of the bridegroom's friends.

The religious ceremony followed at the castle church and was of the simplest character with a company of steel helmets forming a guard of honor.

The former Kaiser Wilhelm, feeling that his grandson had violated a pledge he assumed on attaining his majority, requested members of the royal family to stay away from the wedding.

Mothers, Too, Can Learn By Experience

Let me begin today with an apology. It is this. In my articles I frequently criticize the methods of "certain" mothers. I do this without animus or indictment. I find, however, that by calling attention to the mistakes of other people (and I include myself in this, for no mother is infallible) there are brought to us many things we may avoid. Very often it happens that certain mistakes of our own would never occur to us unless someone called to our attention the fact that someone else has done it, too.

Some of the things I criticize most are done by women I like best. Some of them are things I do, or have done, myself until I had my own eyes opened. And I still make many mistakes. As my children grow older I see, every day, where I should like to go back and correct things I did not know about at the time.

"I Was the Mrs. Brown"

Not long ago I talked to a woman who was sure I had her in mind when I wrote a certain article. When I discovered what the article was about I laughed. "My dear!" I cried. "There is only one person on earth who could possibly be offended by that story and that is myself. I was the Mrs. Brown of that tale. I often write about my mistakes both present and past. I wasn't even thinking of you."

It is the mother who is alert to her own mistakes who makes the most progress. The one with the closed mind may see too late what she has done, or not done.

For instance a friend of mine some years ago had two girls over six years of age when a baby boy came along. She had always boasted of knowing how to handle children without the aid of any specialist or a book. She never welcomed suggestions.

She had made a good job of her girls. Finer, more straightforward, unspoiled and unprejudiced little children I never knew, but the boy from his cradle was different. He had a will, he had a temper, and the usual methods of regularity, firmness, and kindness did not work. He was a young devil from way back so it seemed.

Partnership Proves Solution
Then, at last she acknowledged that she had to have help to control him. She was willing to own that she could not possibly make the grade alone.

This little boy was very affectionate. He was also very, very intelligent. Said I, "You have a child who will mature mentally very quickly. Naturally he will be impatient. Such children always are. Be careful that he does not become impatient with you. You can never control him. Once in a while we have a child of strong character, who never can be controlled as we know the word in its usual sense. You will have to make it a partnership and gain your influence that way. Keep him very busy and be busy with him. Once he bolts your last vestige of influence will be gone. Guide him, but don't over-boss him."

She listened. She stopped her other methods. She and the boy became great chums and had wonderfully jolly times together. She was on the verge of losing him, but she went for help in time and took advice. The only way to reach that child was through a fifty-fifty friendship and a rein made of rubber instead of leather.

OBSTACLES IN THE PATH OF PEACE

Back of the difficulties which lie in the road of the disarmament conferees at Geneva lies the simple fact that the ordinary citizen of the world doesn't know what he really wants.

Between mankind and the achievement of a fair degree of disarmament there are only intangible obstacles; such things as suspicion, prejudice and misunderstanding. And all of these, if you examine them, trace back to our inability to fix on a common goal.

On the surface, no such inability exists. Ask any man, in any land, what he wants his government to give him and he will reply that he wants prosperity, order, security, a chance to get and hold a decent job, make a decent living and bring up his children in conditions that will ensure the same things for them when they are grown.

Simple, isn't it? But it isn't hard to demonstrate that we don't really want those things at all; or, if we do, we take some extremely peculiar ways of going after what we want.

It is perfectly clear by this time, for instance, that no nation can truly "win" a prolonged war under modern conditions. The loser is doomed to certain revolution, chaos and long drawn-out misery; the victor has more than a fair chance of getting all of those things, and even if he misses them he is bound to get unemployment, recurring tides of the deflation and inflation, economic distress and political disturbance.

You can hardly find a man who will not admit the truth of that statement. And if that statement is true, it follows inescapably that war is the surest of all ways for the ordinary man to lose all of those things that he most desires.

Yet we refuse to take the definite steps which will remove the danger of war. We admit that these things may be true, but we insist that we must have large armies and navies so that if war does come we can be the victors. Since all of us—Americans, British, French, Germans and Japanese—feel the same way, we go whirling merrily along toward new wars and the destruction of our fondest hopes.

If we really want the things that we say we want, we shall make a complete success of the disarmament conference. The trouble is that we aren't as desirous of those things as we think we are.

WHEN FATE WAS KIND

The fate that presides over shipwrecks seems to be an excessively capricious sort of lady. Once a ship comes to grief, the lives of those aboard seem to depend more on blind chance than on any other single factor.

A case in point is the recent wreck of the passenger liner George M. Cox on Rock of Ages reef in Lake Superior. This steamer ran on the reef in a heavy fog and immediately broke her back. The 124 persons aboard were taken ashore by lifeboat and raft without loss of life. Lake Superior, as luck would have it, was calm.

Without taking anything away from the calmness and efficiency of the officers and seamen who effected the rescue, it can safely be said that if a heavy wind had been prevailing a good many lives would surely have been lost. As it happened, their luck was in and they were saved. It could just as easily have been the other way—in which case one of the worst marine disasters of recent years would have been recorded.

TOY BUSINESS BOOMS

Looking for results of inflation in American business is hardly a paying proposition yet, since few really inflationary steps have actually been taken; nevertheless, the director of the Toy Manufacturers of the United States reports that inflation has already caused a boom in the toy business.

Not long ago toy makers held a "Toy Fair," attended by buyers from all over the country; and sales recorded at this fair were 75 per cent over those sold at a similar fair. James L. Fri, director of the manufacturers' association, attributes this largely to the inflation program.

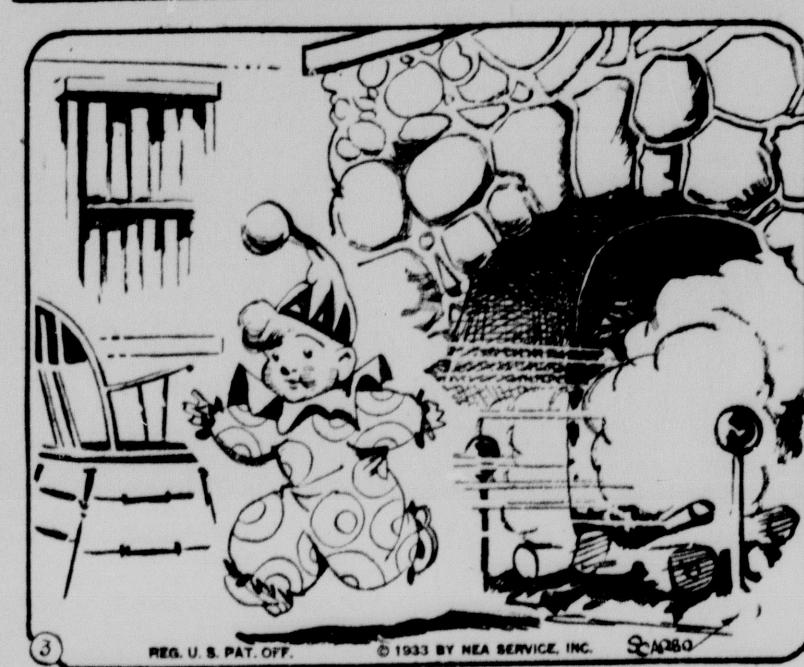

Buyers, he said, sought to get their orders in now in advance of rising prices. As a result, 300 American toy factories will have increased production schedules and larger payrolls this summer.

I don't see why a man who stayed in a training camp here where he got new bridge-work in his mouth and the absinthe boiled out of his system by regular living should get benefits because he was hit by a taxicab 10 years later.—Alfred E. Smith, former governor of New York.

I am one of those radicals who believe that the right to work will be recognized as the right to live is today; we are on that road.—Senator Wagner of New York.

Dropping a can of nitroglycerin would not necessarily furnish enough impact to set it off, but you never can tell. You always want to be mighty good to it.—W. H. Swartz, Oklahoma oil fields explosive expert.

The proposal to repudiate all outstanding gold contracts is unconstitutional and the courts will so hold if there is any integrity left in the courts.—Senator Carter Glass (D, Virginia.)

The chimney top was large and flat, and on the edge were tiny sat. Said he, "I guess the eagle needs a rest. That's why we stopped."

"That's what I call good common sense. No doubt 't would be at my expense if Mr. Eagle grew tired out. No doubt I would be dropped."

He then gazed 'round the countryside, and not another house was spied. Said he, "This is a lonely place. I wonder who lives here?"

"If I could get down to the ground, it might be fun to look around, and yet if I stay where I am, there's not a thing to fear."

He rested for an hour and then exclaimed, "Well, let's be off again. Grab hold of me, old Baldy, and hang on with all your might."

The bird, however, rose in air, and left poor Duncy sitting there. The bird just sat dumbfounded till the bird was out of sight.

And then he said, "Well, what a fix! No doubt, one of the eagle's tricks, or can it be this is the place where I'm supposed to be?

"The elf said his old eagle knew where Dotty was, and Goldy, too. I wonder if they're in this house? Well, I will shortly see."

He then stood up and promptly found there was no way to reach the ground, unless he slid, inside the chimney, right into the house.

"Oh, well," he cried, "I'll try my luck. I only hope I don't get stuck."

He found the chimney inside rough. In fact, 'twas that way just enough to let him get a foothold as he wiggled through the place.

At last he reached a fireplace where he got a breath of real fresh air. He was a funny sight to see, with soot smeared on his face.

KEEP YOUR CHIN UP

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton
Lord Ponsonby, in his brief life of Queen Victoria, tells us some hitherto unknown facts.

The Queen was a tiny woman, physically, but all who saw her were impressed by her queenly bearing. It was due in part to the quality of her spirit; but in other part it was due to her rigid training as a child. The little Princess would sometimes have a bunch of holly pinned under her chin, and when her head drooped it pricked her throat, reminding her to hold herself erect!

It tells us how kings and queens are made; it shows us the one sure sign of royal natures in all ranks of life. Many qualities go to the making of royalty and leadership—blood, breeding, character, and the grace of God—but the one indispensable quality is—"Chins up!" There are times when even the bravest souls seem to bend under the pressure of trouble and the stress of endurance; but always there is the proud, imperious gesture—as if the prick of a spig of holly had given sharp warning. Up goes the chin, and the eyes flash defiance!

Here is a fine maxim for times such as these: Wear a bunch of holly under the chin—keep a stiff upper lip! These are hard times for all, cruel times for many; for some they are days that dull the eye and bow the head in defeat and despair. We must remember our royalty, and not let life get us down, trample on us, conquer us, crush us. A few unconquerable souls whose chins refuse to fall help other people to keep their hearts up in the midst of burdens almost too heavy to bear. They rebuke our fear, rally our faith, and renew our fighting spirit.

Nor is it merely a matter of bluff and bluster, for we are of royal birth and breeding. "Now we think it worth while to undergo the discipline of the holly. Each of us must decide whether we are to be princes and princesses or peasant souls driven by fate. Therefore, chins up; take new courage; fight it out; refuse to surrender—for nothing can conquer the royal soul of man when it remembers its royalty!"

NEW DISEASES

It has been observed that the solution of any significant problem in science brings to light 10 new ones.

Shortly after the discovery of insulin for the treatment of diabetes, it was observed that overdoses of insulin produced convulsive seizures closely resembling epilepsy.

Since diabetes appears due to an inadequacy in the production of insulin by the pancreas, it seemed quite possible that the opposite of diabetes, namely, hyper-insulinism, a condition in which the pancreas produces an excess of insulin might also exist.

Comparable disease conditions are to be found affecting other glands.

Thus, we find in the thyroid a condition known as myxedema in the adult, and the young as cretinism, in which the thyroid does not secrete enough of its specific hormone. Again, there is the condition of hyperthyroidism, in which the thyroid secretes excessively.

The pituitary, another gland of internal secretion, is also subject to disease conditions in which it secretes either an inadequate or an excessive amount of its hormone.

The existence of hyper-insulinism has been definitely established. Physiologically, this disease is recognized by a diminished presence of sugar in the blood, a condition diametrically opposite to that which we find in diabetes.

In certain cases of hyper-insulinism it was found that the pancreas was affected by a tumor growth. In other cases, no tumors were found, but cutting away or otherwise rendering a portion of the pancreas non-functioning, cured the hyper-insulinism.

Because an excess of insulin produces a condition closely resembling epilepsy, studies are now being carried on to determine the possible relationship between hyper-insulinism and certain forms of epilepsy.

From TWENTY through the FORTIES

You can retain a YOUTHFUL SKIN

More than 50,000 women in the past three years have become enthusiastic users of Denton's Magnesia creams. Why? Because they found them not just "another cream" among hundreds, but something entirely different. They cleanse the complexion by dissolving dirt through the scientific action of magnesium salts, not merely loosening or rubbing it off or out, as other creams do.

Women, especially those nearing the dangerous thirties, can actually witness the transformation of their complexions, the disappearance of coarse texture, crepey necks, enlarged pores and sagging tissues. And instead, through these new greaseless cleansing and nourishing creams, there comes the soft glowing natural skin of youth itself!

Give Denton's a thorough trial for a week or ten days. Compare it with your present favorite cream (no matter how expensive), then go back (if you can) to old fashioned creams. You will find them economical, too; morning and evening use cost less than a cent a day. Sold on money back guarantee at leading department and drug stores.

GIANTS SEEM TO BE EAST'S ONLY NATIONAL HOPE

Yesterday's American League Games Made Several Changes

By HUGH S. FULLETON

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Although the end of the baseball season still is a long way off, it begins to look as if the New York Giants were about the east's only hope in the National League pennant race.

With Hal Schumacher and Pud Parnelle coming through in fine style their mound staff has rounded into good shape and at times they can give a very convincing demonstration of hitting the ball.

They showed how it is done yesterday when they hammered the Phillies into submission in two big innings to win 11 to 3 for their sixth straight over the tail enders this year.

Four Philadelphia flingers had a taste of the battering, which totaled 19 hits, and although Carl Hubbell granted 14 blows, he merely "coasted" through, tossing in nine strikeouts at the crucial moments.

Near Cardinals
The victory put the Giants within 1-1-2 games of the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and Boston Braves fought to a standoff in their double-header, while the western clubs all had an open date.

Southpaw Ed Brandt hurled the Braves to a 6-1 victory in the opener, giving only five hits. Ray Benge returned the compliment in a slightly less effective fashion, winning his first victory as a Dodger, 7-2, in the second game.

The Cleveland Indians created something of an upset in the American League standing as they won two mound duels from the St. Louis Browns, 2 to 1 and 1 to 0. The double triumph sent Cleveland into a tie for second place with Washington, which downed the Boston Red Sox 8-3, while a 5-4 defeat at the hands of the league-leading New York Yankees sent the Philadelphia Athletics down into fourth place.

Sox Walloped Again
The fourth American League game saw the Detroit Tigers batter the Chicago White Sox into submission, 14 to 1 with a concentrated batting attack behind Art Herring's six hit flinging.

Good pitching won both of Cleveland's victories as Oral Hildebrand and Mel Harder beat out Bump Hadley on the strength of a pair of doubles by Dick Porter and Johnny Burnett in the first inning. The flinging of Lefty Gomez was an important factor in the Yankee victory as he struck out 13 rivals, equalling the best major league mark this season. On the other hand, Mose Grove, essaying the relief role for the ninth time in eleven games, gave up a hit and a wild pitch in the eighth inning to let the tying and winning runs score.

DIPLOMAS WERE GIVEN GRADUATES OF HIGH SCHOOL

Class Of 150 Complete Course In Exercises Friday Eve

Pointing out the importance of the activities of the high school students of today in the affairs of the nation of tomorrow, and the advantages at hand, Dr. H. E. Bradford, Chairman of the Department of Vocational Education of the University of Nebraska, spoke last evening on the subject, "The Magic Touch," at the annual commencement exercises of the 1933 high school graduating class of 150 students. The auditorium at the Assembly Park was well filled for the exercises.

Dr. Bradford pointed out the needlessness of advising the graduating class, and said:

"It is needless to advise you to seek wealth because if you are to be rich you will acquire wealth. It is needless to advise you to be famous, for if you are to be a leader you will acquire fame. It is not necessary to advise the members of the graduating class of fine young men and women to be either of these. I am not so interested in what you will be as I am in what you will contribute. I invite you to be the men and women of tomorrow with an opportunity your fathers and mothers never were able to command."

"In the minds of all peoples, of this country and other countries, there is always that longing for the magic touch. We have that magic in many places in our daily lives in mechanics, economics, power and light."

The speaker depressed and used the story of Aladdin and his lamp to illustrate his subject more clearly. Continuing his remarks, and relating to the need for proper leadership of the future, Dr. Bradford said:

Consider Another World

"Another world is to be considered tonight. We need these young people to make us think in the terms of today. The magic touch which is sought by the world lies in the public schools both of today and tomorrow. These students will solve the problems of the America of tomorrow, and that my friends, is the magic touch."

The program opened with the invocation, which was pronounced by Dr. Gilbert Stansell, pastor of the First Methodist church. The high school orchestra under the direction of Orville Westgate played as the class marched on the stage in their caps and gowns and took their positions behind a bank of flowers which lined the front of the stage. A double quartette composed of members of the graduating class sang, "Morning Invitation," by Victor.

Miss Wilhelmina Manush delivered her oration, the subject of which was, "Women in the Modern World." This was followed by William Wayne Smith, who used as the subject of his oration, "The America of the Future." Both orations were very well delivered and the speakers displayed an ease and poise which impressed the listeners.

Dr. Bradford in his address, commended very highly the remarks of both of the orators.

The high school orchestra rendered Barcarolle from "The Tales of Hoffman," preceding the principal address and the program closed with the presentation of the diplomas by Superintendent A. H. Lancaster, who briefly summarized the courses offered in the high school and the requirements necessary for graduation, the benediction being pronounced by Rev. J. Franklin Young, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Memorial Day

Tuesday was a most ideal Memorial Day. Early in the morning folks began to go to the cemetery to decorate the graves of loved ones. The cemetery was perfectly beautiful, with the perfect care it has had and the bright colored flowers scattered here and there made a beautiful sight. At 1:30 the Franklin Grove band gathered on main street where they played several selections going then to the Presbyterian church where a line of march of eighty-one squads had been formed by children, each squad with a leader. The band led the parade, after which the American Legion following them was an automobile in which was Comrade G. W. Ling and the speaker of the day, Rev. C. P. Blekking. The car with Comrade Ling was driven by Fred Kippler, who was in the World War and lost an arm while there. The usual services were held at the cemetery, after which further services were held at the Camp grounds. The decorations at the tabernacle were very lovely. The program was carried out as advertised. The address was by Rev. Blekking is spoken of very highly. For many years Memorial Day has been a home coming day for Franklin and many were the hearty handshakes and the renewing of old friendships. An ideal day ideally spent is the verdict of all.

Honored Birthday Anniversary

June Miller was 12 years of age Thursday and her mother, Mrs. Jay Miller planned a surprise for her. Twenty-five girls gathered at her home to help her celebrate the occasion. Several pictures were taken of the girls after which games were played. At luncheon Elizabeth Chronister won first and Katherine Karper second honors. Refreshments were served consisting of ice cream and cake. The girls departed for their homes after wishing June many more happy birthdays.

Mass Meetings To Be Held

A prohibition mass meeting will be held at the Methodist church next Sunday evening in Ashton when the dry works of 43 churches are urged to unite in a great meeting against the ratification of the 21st amendment which would repeal the 18th Amendment.

This will be a spirited meeting and a good attendance is looked forward to, this being one of a series of meetings held by the dry workers all over Illinois. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. George A. Walter, pastor of the Reynolds Evangelical church and one of the fifty dry delegates to the convention. Rev. Walters is an able speaker and his address will be the last of the many he has given over this section of the state in the short campaign. Franklin folks are most earnestly urged to attend this meeting in Ashton.

Obituary

Mrs. Amelia Fredericka Bettin, nee Juderhahn, widow of Carl Bettin, was born in the province of Pomerania, Germany on the 11th day of December, 1854, and died at her home in Franklin Grove, Sunday May 28th, 1933, at the age of 78 years, 5 months and 17 days.

In early infancy she was baptized and at the proper age, after having received the prescribed course of religious instructions, she was confirmed in the saving doctrines of salvation by which she became a member of the Lutheran church.

On November 12, 1874, she was united in marriage with Carl Bettin of Doelitz, Germany. This union was blessed with five children, one daughter preceding her in death in the year 1925.

In the year 1893 the family immigrated to America in search of a new home, arriving at Duluth, Minn., on May 23rd of that year, living there for about two years. Thirty-eight years ago, the family moved to Franklin Grove, Illinois, which place has been her home until the time of her death.

Mrs. Bettin was a woman with a strong constitution and enjoyed good health until about five years ago, when it began to leave her, yet she continued to be able to do her household duties. Nearly five months ago, she became bedfast. What medical skill could do was done for her, but all to no avail. Death came Sunday morning at 4 o'clock and relieved her of her suffering.

She leaves to mourn her loss three sons and one daughter, Emil Bettin of Franklin Grove, Mrs. Ida Rudolph of Duluth, Minn.; Herman Bettin of Chicago, Albert Bettin of Natchua. Fifteen grand children, fourteen great grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Louise Reinell of Duluth, Minn., other relatives and many friends, also survive her departure.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday from the late home and later from the St. Paul Lutheran church of this place. Rev. F. W. Henke, the pastor had charge.

Special Pentecost service 8:45 A. M. Pentecost is the festival of the Holy Spirit. The activity of the Holy Spirit in the work of saving souls seems to be the least understood and appreciated least. Most Christian people have a hazy view of the third person of the Trinity and His work. Come to church Sunday and receive some valuable information on the Holy Ghost and His mission in the world. Holy Communion will be celebrated. Please announce your intentions. Special offering for our charitable institutions.

Durkes-Saathoff

A quiet home wedding was solemnized Tuesday noon, when Miss Josephine Durkes, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes, of Franklin Grove became the wife of Bernard F. Saathoff, of Charlotte, Ill.

Rev. C. D. Wilson, pastor of the local Methodist Episcopal church, pronounced the ceremony in the presence of the immediate family, and Miss Clara Lahman, aunt of the bride.

After the ceremony the couple left on a brief honeymoon. Wednesday they will return to their home in Pontiac.

Mrs. Saathoff is one of Franklin Grove's most highly respected and well-liked young ladies. She is a graduate of the local high school, later attending college and teaching at Chatsworth, in which city she taught the past five years with eminent success and satisfaction to all patrons. Her husband is a prosperous farmer of Charlotte. The happy couple expect to reside near Pontiac.

To them both may all the good in life come at once, and linger long.
